

The Scottish Government has funded eight case studies in 2023-24 to support, explore and learn how to undertake coastal change adaptation across Scotland.

Table 1 Summary of case studies.

Case study area	Council	Brief outline	Amount
Ballantrae	South Ayrshire	Develop resilience and adaptation options for assets behind shingle shore.	£ 106k
Orkney Islands	Orkney Islands	Community communications and engagement plan to support adaptation planning across Orkney.	£ 66k
Nairn	Highland	Monitoring & enhancements for sand beach resilience, as part of an Adaptation Pathway.	£ 83k
Sandend	Aberdeenshire	Community involved monitoring and resilience options appraisal for dune system.	£ 56k
Sandhead	Dumfries and Galloway	Nature-based resilience actions for at risk road whilst improving beach access.	£ 36k
Scottish Borders	Scottish Borders	Adaptation plan for the Berwickshire Coastal Path	£ 31k
Scottish Borders	Scottish Borders	Community engagement for Shoreline Management Plan	£ 41k
St Andrews	Fife	Explore novel monitoring of sand beach and dunes, review past works and guide future resilience works and adaptation options.	£ 126k

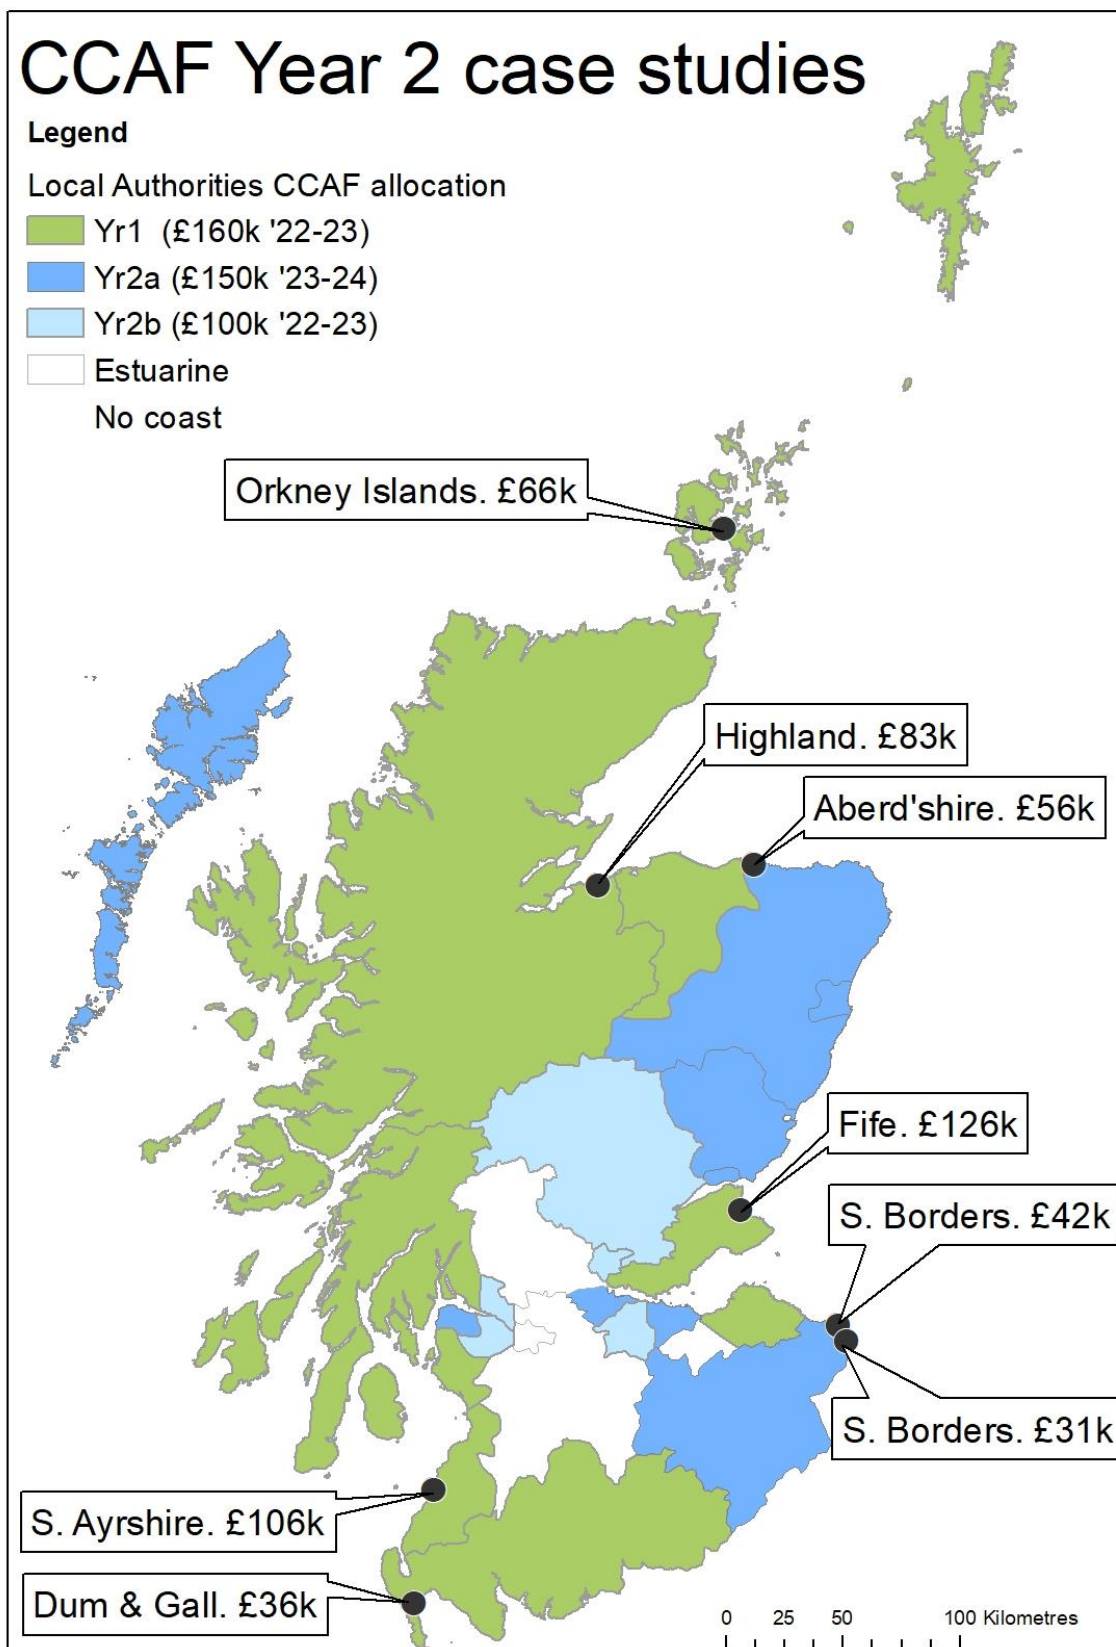

Figure 1 Map showing location of Coastal Change Adaptation Fund case studies

End.